FAQ about Global Meals

What is Kosher? Kosher is a Biblical directive specifying laws permitting certain food items and ways of preparing them.

What foods are permitted? Meat - only animals that have split hooves and chew cud. Fish - only species that have both fins and scales. Fruits & Vegetables - all types, except those prone to infestation

Why are all fruits and vegetables thoroughly washed and checked by the rabbi? Jewish law (according to the bible) forbids the consumption of insects or anything that crawls on the ground. Fruits and vegetables that are prone to infestation must be checked by a Rabbi to ensure that there are no insects embedded in any of the leaves.

Why can't we serve or cook meat and dairy products together? Jewish law states that "You shall not cook a young goat in the milk of its mother." This means that meat and dairy foods may not be combined.

Why is kosher meat salted and soaked? Jewish law forbids a Jewish person to eat blood. Therefore, all meat has to be processed and purged to ensure that all blood is extracted.

What is Global Meals' hygiene and food safety policy? We are committed to ensuring good hygiene standards and temperature control are maintained at all times during processing and delivery of all our meals. We are using the latest technology to ensure that you receive high quality kosher meals with a guarantee that the food received is safe and hygienic.

Can I drink milk with my meal?

No, Jewish law prohibits drinking milk with meat and recommends waiting six hours between eating meat and subsequently drinking milk.

Do you have all the required certifications?

Yes. Global Meals can provide individual meal's Kosher Certification upon your request.

What if I cannot be home for my delivery?

In the event you are hospitalized or going out of town, please contact our office to cancel your meals prior to your delivery day.

Can someone else sign for my delivery?

YES! But only with your case manager's authorization. Please contact your case manager before your delivery day and request for a written authorization to be sent directly to Global Meals by fax 614-228-1746 or email at help@globalmeals.com for approval of a designated person to sign for your meals.

How do I contact Global Meals?

COVID-19 RESPONSE

At Global Meals, the health of our consumers, partners, and employees is paramount. Global Meals is fully prepared to continue to meet our consumer's needs, including clients who may have limited ability to leave their homes in the coming months. If you require additional meals you may request the increase for your weekly meal delivery, up to 14 meals per week, by contacting your case manager.

Q: Am I required to sign for my meal delivery?

A: During the period of the Emergency Order, the consumer's signature is not required for meal delivery verification. Delivery Driver must obtain visual confirmation that meals have been received by the consumer. Meals should not be left at the door if the consumer is not home.

Q: What will happen if I don't answer the door?

A: In the event you do not answer the door, a consumer should be contacted by telephone. If the consumer is unable to be reached, delivery personnel or provider staff should connect with their emergency contact. Leaving meals at the door of a consumer's home without visual or audio contact is not recommended. This approach does not align with safe food handling practices and may increase the risk of contamination and food borne illness. In addition, this unsafe practice increases the risk of theft.
